VOL. XXII, NO. 220 GAINESVILLE, FLORIDA, SUNDAY, OCTOBER 22, 1905 TEN CENTS A WEEK

A HEARTY WELCOME TO THE PRESIDENT

By the People of the State at Jacksonville.

PATRIOTISM OF OUR PEOPLE

It is Manifested on Every Hand—Entertained As Only the Warm-Hearted Floridian Can—The Day An Event in History of the State Metropolis.

Jacksonville, October 21.—This has been an eventful day for the people of the State of Florida as well as the city of Jacksonville.

The city was crowded with visitors and thousands witnessed the parade. A fine feature was the appearance of the Second regiment of State militia. The parade was cheered all along the line and many buildings were handsomely decorated.

At the stand where the speaking was to take place there was a large assemblage. Mayor Nolan delivered the address of welcome, which was followed by remarks from Gov. Broward.

In his address President Roosevelt dwelt on the Panama Canal at some length, declaring that the work can be done and will be done.

There was nothing to mar the occasion and it was a great one for the city.

Fighting the Dispensary.

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 21.—With the issuing of an order by Judge Pritchard, in the federal court commanding the members of the board of control of Union county, South Carolina, to show cause why the Brice bill should not be declared unconstitutional, began what is expected to be one of the most bitterly fought and important cases coming from South Carolina in several years. The suit bears directly upon the dispensary system in the state, and in it the opposing forces, dispensary and anti-dispensary, will be arrayed against each other.

Distinguished Tennessean Dead.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 21.—Martin Barth is dead at his home at Gallatin, Tenn., aged 78 years. Andrew Carnegie held his first position under Mr. Barth. It was while the latter was chief messenger of the old Atlantic and Ohio Telegraph company at Pittsburg, Pa., in 1848, when Mr. Carnegie was made assistant messenger. Later when Mr. Barth graduated into the higher position of operator, Mr. Carnegie was given the position of chief messenger.

Texas Officer is Killed.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 21.—While in charge of a train load of excursionists enroute to a circus at Palestine, Special Officer J. W. Etheridge, of the International and Great Northern railroad, was shot to death in the crowded depot of Troupe, Tex., by a disorderly passenger he had ejected from the chair car. Etheridge's brains were blown out. The weapon was placed against the back of the head.

$80,000 IN MONEY RECOVERED.

Express Clerk Who Stole Large Sum Burned Large Bills.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 21.—Edward G. Cunliffe, the Adams Express employe who disappeared from Pittsburg with $101,000 and was arrested here yesterday, started back to Pittsburg with the detectives today.

Cunliffe seemed more low spirited today than he was when first captured. He explained this by saying that he had hoped to arrange for lenient treatment after reaching Pittsburg by treating on his secret as to the whereabouts of the stolen money, but the fact that the detectives recovered $80,000 of the money in Bristol, Conn., last evening removed the prisoner's hopes in this respect. After being told by the detectives of the recovery of this money, Cunliffe said that he had burned the rest of the amount stolen, because the bills were all of large denominations and all on the same bank, making it dangerous for him to carry them about.

$2,000 to Find Husband.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 21.—Mrs. H. S. France, wife of a former motorman of the Pacific Electric Railway company, has inserted an advertisement in all the leading daily papers of this section, stating she would pay $2.000 for information that would lead to the discovery of the whereabouts of her missing husband. France left the home here last August and has not been heard from since that date. According to the story related by Mrs. France, who incidentally lays claim to being a first cousin of General Stonewall Jackson, France secured a leave of absence from his employment and taking with him the sum of $2,000 left their home and failed to return. Mrs. France has lately fallen heir to $40,000 in cash and large property interests from an uncle in Alabama.

Treat Consumption at Home.

New York, Oct. 21.—Emphasis on the fact that he did not appreciate the fact of the benefits of the high altitudes in tuberculosis Dr. A. Knopf, of the New York State Medical association yesterday stated his belief that cures obtained in in ordinary home climates, while requiring longer seem to be more lasting. Dr. Knopf declared that the modern sanitarium for consumptives is the safest place not to contract a tuberculosis disease at, and instead of being a menace to a neighborhood is a benefit because of the lesson of cleanliness and health it teaches us.

Charged with Manslaughter.

New York, Oct. 21—A cable dispatch from Paris says that Elliott Shepard, a son of the late Colonel Elliot Shepard, and a grandson of the late W. H. Vanderbilt was arraigned yesterday on a charge of manslaughter. He had been automobiling in company with Tom Thorne, a race horse owner, and a chauffeur, and the car which Shepard was driving struck and killed a a girl. Ex-Minister Poincarre conducted the prosecution. He made a scathing attack on the prisoner, which aroused some of the audience to such an extent that the president of the court threatened to clear the room.

New Depot for Chicago.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Plans for the construction of a new railway station at a cost of from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 and enlargement of passenger terminals at a cost of the balance of $25,000,000 are being considered by the five tenants of the present union station at Canal and Adams streets. The five roads, including the Pennsylvania, Panhandle, also a Pensylvania property, the Chicago and Alton, the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, have already agreed to share the cost of the place, the Pennsylvania to receive from the other companies one-fifth o. the value of the property to be occupied.

Steamer's Cargo on Fire.

Manchester, Oct. 21. The cargo of the Spanish steamer Ramond Larrinaga, Captain Onddiasa, which arrive here Oct. 18, from Pensacola, Fla., was on fire. The fire was finally extinguished but not before great damage had been done to the cargo both by water and fire. The Ramond Larrinaga is loaded with cotton.

GEORGIA WELCOMES CHIEF EXECUTIVE

Gate City of the South Receives President Royally.

MAKE GREAT DEMONSTRATION

President Roosevelt Delivers Speech at Fair Grounds—He Praises the South and Lauds Her Achievements. Fifty Thousand Visitors in City.

Atlanta, Oct. 21.—Theodore Roosevelt, president of the United States, and Mrs. Roosevelt, the first lady of the land, arrived at Atlanta this morning at 10 o'clock in a special train over the Southern railway and were the guests of Atlanta until 7 o'clock p. m.

The visit of the president to Georgia and Atlanta is particularly appropriate. Mr. Roosevelt's mother was a Georgia by birth, and the name of her ancestors occupy a prominent place in the history and traditions of the state. She was wooed and won by the president's father, a northern man, and left her southland home to cast her lot with him in the home of his people. The president is related closely and indirectly with many of the best-known families in Georgia, and his visit to the girlhood home of his mother will be the most interesting feature of his trip to the south.

It is but natural that the people of Georgia should feel close to the president. His mother, the beautiful and charming Miss Bulloch, endeared herself to all who know her, and her family was one that has been a leader of men and prominent in the the affairs of the world.

The presidential party visited early in the morning the little town of Roswell, and all the details for entertainment and reception had been completed. Thousands of admiring Georgians from nearby counties were on hand to tender the president a greeting and he was shown the places that were so familiar to his mother during her young womanhood. This visit to Roswell was the happy culmination of a desire the president has felt for many years.

President's Atlanta Speech.

Here in this great industrial center in this city which is a typical southern city, and therefore a typical American city, it is natural to consider certain phases of the many-sided industrial problem which this generation has to solve. In this world of ours it is practically impossible to get success of any kind on a large scale without paying someting for it. The exceptions to the rule are too few to warrant our paying heed to them; and as a rule it may be said that something must be paid as an offset for everything we get and for everything we accomplish. This is notably true of our industrial life. The problems which we of America have to face today are very serious, but we will do well to remember that after all they are only part of the price which we have to pay for the triumphs we have won, for the high position to which we have attained. If we were a backward and stationary country we would not have to face these problems at all; but I think that most of us are agreed that to be backward and stationary would be altogether too heavy a price to pay for the avoidance of the problems in question. There are no labor troubles where there is no work to be done by labor. There are no troubles about corporations where the poverty of the community is such that it is not worth while to form corporations. There is no difficulty in regulating railroads where the resources of a region are so few that it does not pay to build railroads. There are many excellent people who shake their heads over the difficulties that as a nation we now have to face; but their melancholy is not warranted save in a very partial degree, for most of the things of which they complain are the inevitable accompaniments of the growth and greatness of which we are proud.

Now, I do not wish to be misunderstood. I do not for one moment mean to say that there are not many and serious evils which we have to grapple, or that there are not unhealthy signs in the body social and politic; but I do mean to say that while we must not show a foolish optimism we must no less beware of a mere blind pessimism. There is every reason why we should be vigilant in searching out what is wrong and unflinchingly resolute in striving to remedy it. But at the same time we must not blind ourselves to what has been accomplished for good, and above all we must not lose our heads and become either hysterical or rancorous in grappling with what is bad.

Take such a question, for instance, as the question, or rather the group of questions, connected with the growth of corporations in this country. This growth has meant, of course, the growth of individual fortunes. Undoubtedly the growth of wealth in this country has had some very unfortunate accompaniments, but it seems to me that much the worst damage that people of wealth can do the rest of us is not any actual physical harm, but the awakening in our breasts of either the mean vice of worshiping mere wealth, and the man of mere wealth, for the wealth's sake, or the equally mean vice of viewing with rancorous envy and hatred the men of wealth merely because they are men of wealth. Envy is, of course, merely a kind of crooked admiration; and we often see the very man who in public is most intemperate in his denunciation of wealth, in his private life most eager to obtain wealth, in no matter what fashion, and at no matter what moral cost.

Need of Government Regulation.

Undoubtedly there is need of regulation by the government, in the interest of the public, of these great corporations which in modren life have shown themselves to be the most efficient business implements, and which are, therefore, the implements commonly employed by the owners of large fortunes. The corporation is the creature of the state. It should always be held accountable to some sovereign, and this accountability should be real and not show. Therefore, in my judgment, all corporations doing an interstate business, and this means the great majority of the largest corporations, should be held accountable to the federal government, because their accountability should be co-extensive with their field of action. But most certainly we should not strive to prevent or limit corporate activity. We should strive to secure such effective supervision over it, such power of regulation over it, as to enable us to guarantee that its activity will be exercised only in ways beneficial to the public. The unwisdom of any well- meaning but misguided effort to check corporate activity has been shown in striking fashion in recent years by our experience in the Philippines and in Porto Rico. Our national legislators very properly determined that the islands should not be exploited by adventurers without regard to the interests of the people of the islands themselves. But unfortunately in their zeal to prevent the islands from being improperly exploited they took measures of such severity as to seriously, and in some respects vitally, to hamper and retard the development of the islands. There is nothing that the islands need more than to have their great natural resources developed, and these resources can be developed only by the abundant use of apital, which, of course, will not be put into them unless on terms sufficiently advantageous to offer prospects of good remuneration. We have made the terms not merely hard, but often prohibitory, with the result that American capital goes into foreign countries, like Mexico, and there used with immense advantage to the country in its development, while it can not go into our own possessions or be used to develop the lands under our own flag. The chief sufferers by this state of things are the people of the islands themselves.

It is impossible too strongly to insist upon what ought to be the patent fact that it is not only in the interest of the people of wealth themselves, but in our interest, in the interest of the public as a whole, that they should be treated fairly and justly; that if they show exceptional business ability they should be given exceptional reward

HOPES OF AN EARLY FROST ENCOURAGING

The Blizzard in Northwest May Reach Fever District.

SITUATION SHOWS IMPROVMENT

Many Marine Hospital Surgeons Can Now Return to Their Stations, But Will Remain in Crescent City Until After President's Visit.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—The weather was tarcatening here today with a fall in the temperature forecasted. Out in the northwest a blizzard is prevailing and there is hope that the wave will come this way and add the finishing touch to the present fever fight. It only needs another cold snap to wind in most of the remaining quarantines. Among the latest parishes to order the raising of quarantine is St. James, which threw down her bars today.

Today's discharges are expected to bring the cases now under treatment within the hundred mark and owing to the slump there has been since last Saturday in new cases there will be a heavy decline in the cases still existing by next week.

All signs point to the fact that the present week will record the lowest number of deaths since July.

Though the situation here is so much improved that Dr. White would be able to spare some of his men to be returned to their stations and it is understood that all who are now here or nearby will remain until President Roosevelt's arrival so tha they may be presented in a body to the chief magistrate.

In this connection attention is called to the fact that although there has been a large number of service surgeons here, many of them non-immunes, not a single one has succumbed although all expressed themselves with great indifference to danger in the neighborhoods of the worst infection. Not more than three or four were taken ill and all of these recovered.

The case of Illinois Central Telegraph Operator Matthews, whom Lutcher, La., would not permit to disembark and reached Baton Rouge, Ill., turns out to be a simple case of malaria.

The second case of fever at Franklin has been reported, but it is also of a mild type. There has also been a case shipped at Jeannette, and another at Baldwin, both near Franklin, and both in St. Mary parish. It is considered not improbable that all of these cases came from Patterson which is also in St. Mary.

Dr. Corput, of the Marine hospital service is at Jeannette. The people there were much alarmed, but Dr. Corput made a reassuring address indicating there was little if any danger of a spread of the disease at this season.

Bartow County Gets First Prize.

Atlanta, Oct. 21.—As promised, announcement was made of the awards of prizes, the result of the decisions of the judges who have worked hard for the last week in the making of the many displays. President Dudley Hughes acted as master of ceremonies, and the results were as follows: 1. For the best, largest and most artistically displayed county agricultural exhibit, premium of $1,600, won by Bartow county. 2. For the second best county agricultural exhibit, as above stated, premium of $1,200, won by Bulloch county. 3. For the third best county agricultural exhibit, as above, premium of $500, won by Gwinnett county.

FARMER RESIDENT MAKES SUGGESTION

T. B. Stringfellow on Municipal Ownership.

CITY SHOULD OWN LIGHT PLANT

Gives Good Reasons Why Vitrified Brick Should be Used for Paving. Will Last a Life-Time and is Always Clean.

Morgan Springs, Tenn., Oct. 15, 1905.
Major W. R. Thomas,
Gainesville, Fla.:

My Dear Major—I see by The Times-Union that the people of Gainesville voted for improvement bonds about 10 to 1, and will say that in my opinion this is the best piece of work they ever did. The city and people must have cheaper lights, if these lights are to be a source of convenience and comfort, instead of a means of extortion. And the only chance on earth to get the rate reduced to a reasonable basis—and maintain a strictly first-class service—is municipal ownership. I enclose you bill against me for lights during July. By this you will see that the Jacksonville rate to private homes is seven cents per M watts, and at this rate the city admits a profit of 100 per cent, the actual cost of current being three and one-fourth cents per M watts, including the interest on the bonded indebtedness—lers than three and three-fourths' cents. This current is made with fuel oil, which costs more than either coal or wood, its use being accepted on account of its convenience.

The question of sewerage is next in importance to that of municipal ownership of lights and water, and it is a pleasure to write you that we (Mrs. S. and myself) are very anxious to raise and educate our four boys in Gainesville, and just as soon as your beautiful little city is the proud owner of its own electric lights and a good system of sewerage we will come and make Gainesville our future home, and, in addition to educating our children in the best school town in the State, do our part in developing and building up the charming community of which Gainesville is the center. I also notice that you are going to spend ten to twenty thousand dollars on paved streets, and in this connection I wish to call your valued attention to vitrified brick, the worth of which for paving streets is a thousand times better than any other material which can be economically used in Florida. The heavy rains which wash away and ruin a shelled or crushed rock paved street, simply cleanses and beautifies a vitrified brick paved street. And the winds and gales that pick up and carry away the surface of a rock paved street in dry weather, uses this loose gravel and sand to cement a brick paved street and makes it stronger than it was before. In addition to these differences, a vitrified brick paved street is always in good order, needing no repairs, and a shell or rock paved street is always in bad order and needing daily repairs. I hope you can induce your city to adopt and use the brick paving, as it is not only clean and beautiful—but everlasting. It costs a little more to put down, but once down it is there in good shape for a life-time. I enclose you clipping from The Times-Union of October 10th. This article will show you the positive stand taken by the Board of Public Works of Jacksonville in favor of vitrified brick pavements, as against crushed rock, shell or anything else. My street paving bill in Jacksonville this year, all vitrified brick, amounts to $1,250, but I would rather pay this sum once and have the enjoyment of clean, smooth, dry pavements for a generation than pay $150 for rock or shell. I spent a week in Chattanooga during the fair and two days while there it rained. The streets are paved with stone (odd sizes), and I was very much impressed with their appearance as compared to the paved streets of Jacksonville. The latter after a rain so bright and pretty and free of pools of water, the other—rocks in a waste of mud and water.

WHY DOES A BABY CRY?

Because it is either hungry or in pain. Properly nourished it will usually grow up right and be comfortable—that's the principal thing for a baby. If its food lacks strength and nourishment add Scott's Emulsion at feeding time. A few drops will show surprising results. If a baby is plump it is reasonably safe. Scott's Emulsion makes babies plump.

MR. ENDEL'S DEPARTURE.

For Thirty-Seven Years He Was a Resident of Gainesville.

After thirty-seven consecutive years of residence in this city, during which time he has seen the city prosper and has prospered himself, J. M. Endel left Saturday for New York, where he proposes to make his future home. He was accompanied by two of his daughters, Misses Fannie and Annie, Miss Rosalee being already North.

Mr. Endel was engaged in the mercantile business here for many years, but owing to misfortune in the death of his devoted wife he could not be content here, consequently decided to make his home elsewhere. His numerous friends here regret to lose him as a citizen, but wish him success and happiness in his new home.

Sprained His Ankle.

Gregory Umberg met with quite an accident Friday, while working with the Long Distance Telephone crew. He was well up on a 30-foot pole, when it tipped over. Umberg jumped to get clear of the pole and sprained one of his ankles. The pole had been set in the ground less than 18 inches.

Cures Chills and Fever.

WOMEN'S WEAR IN WARTIME

Homemade Cloth of Many Kinds. Scraped Horn For Hats.

We had one cotton mill to spin the warp. The people stood in line to get a bunch of cotton for warp. The filling was yarn, cotton, flax and tow. We got our dyestuff from the forest. It was almost as bad on timber as the tanbark trade is now. There was great rivalry among the women to see who could have the prettiest dress. I have a quilt made of cotton and linen called a "Confederate" quilt.

The clothing for every member of the family was made from the raw material, carded, spun, woven, dyed and made with homespun thread.

The tow linen cloth had one peculiarity. It was a great stretcher. It was often exchanged for other things. A man and his wife started to town with cloth sufficient to get some articles. On the way he remembered he needed a gimlet also. He told his wife. They decided to tie the ends of the cloth to two saplings, he to stretch a gimlet out of it.

I took great interest in the silk industry. We fed the worms on mulberry leaves, and such beautiful silk we did have. A bright stripe in a cotton dress made it very fine. A family made gloves, beautiful silk mitts, with bees embroidered on the back. Nothing went to waste. The thorn trees furnished us pins and hairpins. Our millinery was our crowning effort. Hats were made of cotton thread crocheted, put on a block, stretched very stiff and ironed, then wired. We had homemade flowers and all kinds of material for trimming. A cloth frame made stiff and covered with scraped cow's horn was much admired, if it did look like a cocoanut cake.—Charlotte (N. C.) Observer.

A Judicious Inquiry.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

This Stream Runs Up Hill.

One of the few instances of a stream running up hill can be found in White county, Ga. Near the top of a mountain is a spring, evidently a siphon, and the water rushes from it with sufficient force to carry it up the side of a very steep hill for nearly half a mile. Reaching the crest, the water flows on to the east, and eventually finds its way to the Atlantic ocean. Of course it is of the same nature as a geyser, but the spectacle of a stream of water flowing up a steep incline can probably be found nowhere else in the country and appears even more remarkable than the geysers of the Yellowstone.

Cures Winter Cough.

J. E. Gover, 101 North Main street, Ottawa, Kan., writes: "Every fall it has been my wife's trouble to catch a severe cold, and therefore to cough all winter long. Last fall I got her a bottle of Horehound Syrup. She used it and has been able to sleep soundly all night long. Whenever the cough troubles her, two or three doses stop the cough, and she is able to be up and well." 25c, 50c and $1. Sold by W. M. Johnson.

BIG IMPROVEMENT IN POSTAL SERVICE

Four New Rural Routes to be Established at an Early Day.

CONVENIENT TO PATRONS

Will Serve Large Number of People With Daily Mail in Many Sections of County—New and Modern Cancelling Machine Just Installed.

Along with other constant and substantial improvements which have made Gainesville one of the most thoroughly advertised cities in the past year, the Gainesville postoffice comes in for its proportion, and Postmaster Arnow and those who have assisted him deserve a great deal of credit for the excellent system which has been inaugurated, and which is being improved at every opportunity. Within the past twenty months Gainesville has been favored with a complete free delivery system and one route of rural free delivery, and Distributing Clerk Benj. T. Arnow, who has been at work on the lists the past few weeks, reports that four additional R. F. D. routes have been secured as follows:

Route No. 2, Gainesville to Rocky Point, Arredondo, Kanapaha, Millard Station, etc.; Route No. 3, Gainesville to the English Colony, Prairie Creek, etc.; Route No. 4, Gainesville to Colclough and Robertson settlements, covering a territory of about fourteen miles; Route No. 5, from Gainesville in a northerly direction, embracing the LaCrosse and Hague sections, and return via the Devil's Millhopper.

With these new routes Mr. Arnow states that about 16,000 people will be served, which will naturally prove a great convenience, as these will have the advantage of a daily mail.

An examination will be held in this city in a short time, when those desiring appointment as carriers may have an opportunity to enter.

Another great improvement and labor-saving device just installed in the postoffice is a stamp cancellor, which has a capacity of stamping 6,000 letters per hour.

NEWS OF CITY AND COUNTY CONDENSED

Mrs. W. H. Palmer, who has been in Jacksonville for some time for medical treatment, will arrive home today. Her numerous friends will be pleased to learn that she is improving.

Arthur S. Harris, formerly with S. J. Thomas of this city, but for the past year connected with the Georgia Supply Company of Savannah in the capacity of traveling salesman, is spending Sunday in the city. Mr. Harris appreciates his friends here, and never loses an opportunity to visit them in a social and business way.

Dr. J. D. Watkins of Micanopy was among the prominent folks from that section who favored Gainesville with a visit yesterday. Dr. Watkins owns a fine grove, and says the trees will bear prolificly this season. The fruit also promises to be fine, and altogether he sees no reason why the growers in his section should not receive good returns from their orange crop this year.

J. H. Manners, the successful traveling representative of the International Harvesting Machine Company of Chicago, who makes his headquarters in this city, has returned from an extended business trip to points in South Florida. Mr. Manners reports trade good, and declares that his trade has been better on this trip than any since his connection with the company in Florida.

Major W. R. Thomas has returned from points in Kentucky, where he has been for the past few days selecting a stock of horses and mules for this market. Major Thomas has been in the livery business in this city for several years, and is regarded as one of the most competent judges of live stock in the State. He purchased a carload, and as will be seen elsewhere in this issue offers them for sale.

E. R. B. Kite of Waldo, yardmaster of the Seaboard Air Line at that place and one of the cleverest young men in the State, was in the city Friday night and yesterday. He came for the purpose of having conferred the mysteries of the degree of R. A. M. in the Masonic fraternity, and stated good-naturedly at the conclusion that he "had a plenty." While here he had his name enrolled upon the rapidly increasing subscription list of The Sun.

Master Wallace Waters tendered his young friends and schoolmates a chicken pillau at the home of his grandfather, Judge George Arnow, Friday evening, and it is needless to add that the guests enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent. There were present about thirty friends of the young man, and on the lawn they participated in various games. At a late hour the guests departed, wishing Master Wallace many pleasant returns of the occasion.

Don't be Imposed Upon.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package. Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds. J. W. McCollum & Co.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

Situation at Pensacola Brightening. New Orleans.

Pensacola, October 21.—Up to noon today there were only two new cases and no deaths. There were 12 new cases yesterday and one death, which caused no alarm. Dr. Porter has been indisposed from overwork.

At New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 21.—Yellow fever in New Orleans is almost a thing of the past. Up to noon today only two cases were reported and no deaths. For nearly four days there has not been a death. The record for the entire twenty-four hours ending at 6 p. m. last night, showed four cases and each of them was mild.

There are only 90 cases under treatment at present. For five days, ending Friday, there were only 95 cases.

BEANS NOW MOVING.

Planters From McIntosh Section Say They are Bringing Good Prices.

Planters from the McIntosh section who have visited this city within the last two or three days state that the bean crop in that section this year is not only a little early, but exceptionally prolific. The quality of fruit is also proving of extra quality, and in all Dame Nature has been favorable to bean growers this year.

Beans have been moving for the past four or five days, and instead of a northward movement, the majority are shipping to Tampa, where they are realizing $2 to $2.50 per crate.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better, and continued to improve until I was entirely well." J. W. McCollum & Co.

Lakes Swept by Severe Storm.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 21.—The lower lakes were swept last night by the heaviest storm of the season. Navigation across the lime kilns crossing at the mouth of the Detroit river is entirely suspended today for all but light craft, the 40-mile southwest wind last night having greatly lowered the stage of water. Lake Huron is being lashed by a 42-mile gale off All Penna. While reports from Lake Erie are that the wind is blowing 30 miles an hour, Grandhaven reports that 60-miles wind prevailed last night on Lake Mhicigan. The Buffalo and Cleveland boats arrived safely but were late.

Makes Homely Women Pretty.

No woman, no matter how regular her features may be, can be called pretty, if her complexion is bad. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and clears sallow blotched complexions by stimulating the liver and bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe, and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name Orino and refuse to accept any substitute. J. W. McCollum & Co.

Bryan to Meet the Mikado.

Tokio, Oct. 21.—The American minister, Loloyd C. Griscom, will present William J. Bryan to the emperor on Oct. 21. Huntington Wilson, the secretary of the American legation, gave a luncheon today in honor of Mr. Bryan, Viscount Aoki, former minister of foreign affairs; Baron Kentaro Kaneko, member of the house of peers; and M. Sakatano, the vice minister of finance, were present. The last mentioned official is a pronounced advocate of the gold standard.

Two Drowned in Storm.

Cleveland, Oct. 21.—During a fierce storm on Lake Erie early today the steamer Sarah E. Sheldon went ashore 4 miles east of Lorain. She carried a crew of thirteen men, a number of whom jumped over board when the vessel began to go to pieces. It is said at least two of the crew were drowned. The Sheldon will be a total wreck. She was loaded with coal for Detroit.

PATRIOTIC OLE BULL.

The Greatest Political Influence In Modern Norway.

What was it that made Ole Bull undeniably the greatest political influence in the history of modern Norway? The riddle is easy to read. Although he voiced the peasants, his own voice was that of no peasant, but one of the most severely learned of European utterances. His instrumental mastery was complete, and the technical difficulties of his compositions have left them for the most part unperformable. But Mozart was his chosen theme, worshiped with such an ardor of consecration that the whole range of his works had for him no secret. His fame, therefore, was of that order that opens all doors. Statesmen and chief captains like Bismarck and Von Moltke were his intimates, and he was their confidant. To world artists like Liszt, Chopin and Mendelssohn he was own brother. Indeed, a curious physical resemblance between Liszt and himself led to many amusing contretemps on this score. And sovereigns, diplomatists and great nobles were all proud to name him among their friends. In him, then, Norway had found one who could stand for her in the highest ranks of the nations, learn for her the secrets of statecraft and recover in her behalf the trick of thinking like a king. For this is one of the losses entailed on a people who are governed by foreigners from a foreign seat—that they forget to think of their country as a whole, the habit that is the secret of rulers.

Yet it was only as a man and not by any means as a politician that an autocrat could claim the friendship of the distinguished artist. His own sovereign felt that he had cause for grave offense when the news reached Stockholm, in 1848, of his heading a procession in Paris to present the Norwegian colors to Lamartine. But even royal anger could not resist the good stories told on the next visit, and the king stood biting his lip at the careless bonhomie of Ole Bull as he turned suddenly and said, "By the way, sire, you should have been with us the other day in Paris when we went to acclaim Lamartine."—Margaret E. Noble in Century.

Seaweed Sauces.

The Japanese have many curious recipes for cooking seaweed, which, with fern, is almost a staple article of diet in China, Japan and the Asiatic archipelago. A number of species of seaweed are eaten. Some are soaked, others are dried. Many of the Japanese and Chinese sauces are made from seaweed. Under the name of "asakusa-nori," one variety is put up in neat tin boxes and largely sold in the Tokyo markets.

SUNSTROKES.

A California paper says bad water kills many people. So does bad whiskey. If people would pay the same price for water as they do for whiskey, there would not be very many deaths from drinking it.

If you keep everlastingly at it you may convince some people that don't know as much as you do that you are what is termed as a "smart man." It takes advertising to push any business.

Some of the hack drivers will have to be interviewed by Marshal Pinkoson before many days. They burn the pavement on University street in going to and from trains.

The talk about football being too strenuous is waste of breath. It wouldn't be football unless some of the players were under foot part of the time.

Now that the people of Florida are assured of a big fair at Tampa, the unsolved problem is, how are we going to be able to get there to see it?

The man who minds his own business and studies its requirements will find that he has no time to interfere with that of others.

The girl who uses the broom-stick well don't have much time to become proficient with the golf-stick.

It was so cloudy in Jacksonville yesterday that the electric lights were turned on in some places.

If you don't want everything you see you will not realize the fact that you are poor.

President Roosevelt's reception in the South will no doubt convince him that there are no better entertainers in the world than in the Southland. At his mother's girlhood home in Roswell, Ga., there was a genuine old-fashioned Southern welcome, which cannot be surpassed, if it can be equaled.

Some of the State papers cannot find anything at home to claim their attention, so they are turning to the Buckman bill as a means for the relief of their pent-up indignation.—St. Augustine Record.

The people of Florida are getting a severe lesson on cleanliness. Some of the cities have kept everything looking so bright that they don't need electric lights. Keep it up.

Carnegie says it is not necessary to go to college if commerce is your chosen sphere. Perhaps not. Some colleges may try to induce students to be honest.

The weather yesterday morning led many to believe that Vice-President Fairbanks was in the party that accompanied the Roosevelt crowd.

Admiral Dewey thinks—but we don't care what he thinks. It is too long after his great victory to pay attention to his thinks. He is history.

The celery crop is now being looked after in this State. There is a chance to make money raising celery in Florida.

The Kentuckian who has invented the painless mode of execution must contemplate some capital crime.

QUARANTINE CONVENTION.

A very earnest desire is felt throughout the South, particularly in those sections either invaded by yellow fever, or demoralized by quarantines, to make the Quarantine and Immigration Convention which meets at Chattanooga, November 9 and 10, a success. The advantages of early action in this matter will be recognized by all. The quarantine question should be acted on and decided while it is before the people, while the experiences of the many unwise, contradictory and onerous quarantines of this summer are still fresh in their memories and when they know what should be done. In a few months, with the ousting of the yellow fever and the revival of business, most of the people will have forgotten what they have gone through, or will be too busy to give their attention to the subject of quarantine. A convention held then will not represent the true sentiment of the South and will not contain its strongest men, but may be controlled by those more interested in patronage than in efficient quarantine work.

Moreover, it is especially desired to have an expression of opinion from the Southern people on the question—one about which there can be no dispute—at as early a day as possible, so that Congress will be able to take it up at its meeting in December, thus assuring every action on it. A bill, properly prepared by men of standing and influence in the South, supported as it will be by Democratic leaders like Senators Morgan and McEnery, and in a House by the Democratic leader, John Sharpe Williams of Mississippi, will almost certainly pass Congress.

BOYCOTT THE PULLMANS.

Social equality in the Pullman cars is the dose now offered to Florida people, and if they are pleased to accept it they may do so, but The Herald's scribe will walk or sleep out on the wire-grass before he will take any such medicine.

On Saturday, 14th inst., at Jacksonville, Capt. W. H. Johnson of Punta Gorda entered the Pullman sleeper "Portugal," C. W. Gill, conductor, which was attached to the Atlantic Coast Line Train 21, W. R. Burt, conductor, coming from Jacksonville to Port Tampa. In the "Portugal" were a negro man, his wife and three children, all of whom had secured sleeping berths. Capt. Johnson laid the matter before both conductors, who explained that they were powerless to do anything as the negroes had first-class tickets over the line and also tickets for berths in the Pullman sleeper.

Thereupon Capt. Johnson, accompanied by Messrs. J. A. Butler of Green Cove Springs, and L. A. Shepherd of Monticello, withdrew from the "Portugal" and spent the night with the "poor white trash" in the ordinary passenger coach in front.

Capt. Johnson says that this is the second time he has been confronted by an attempt on the part of the Pullmans to force social equality on their patrons. The first attempt came near causing a riot with serious consequences, but the second one was passed peacefully for the sake of the innocent conductor.

In these days when our State authorities are lending encouragement to murder, the conduct of the Pullmans may beget lawlessness of a serious nature.—Punta Gorda Herald.

Under the present school law of the State a valuable inducement is offered the patrons of the public schools to do their part in securing a good attendance. This provision of the law, in brief, gives to each school showing an average attendance of 80 per cent of its enrollment, two extra months of school at State expense. All that parents have to do is to see that their children, once enrolled, are faithful in attendance. This does not apply to schools which are already receiving State aid.

STATE INSURANCE.

Ever since The Sun revived the State insurance question there has been more or less favorable comment on the subject by the press of the State, and it is apparent that at the next session of the Legislature there will be a revival of the matter in earnest. In speaking of the insurance business The Palatka Times-Herald says:

"The question of the State going into the insurance business will certainly receive the careful attention of the next Legislature. Governor Broward has the support of the people on his stand in this all-important matter."

Others have expressed the same sentiment, and it is quite evident that we can have State insurance, as well as to have the companies under Government control.

The Levy County Advocate, published at Williston, has been sold by J. N. Hale to Q. E. Peacock. Mr. Peacock has been manager of the paper for some time, and will no doubt keep it up to its present high standard. Mr. Hale goes to Cairo, Ga., to run a job office.

J. M. Caldwell is again in the printing business, having purchased a controlling interest in the Jasper Publishing Company. The press of the State will heartily welcome him back to the fold.

Bill Brown's big ox wagon came in from the Big Cypress store on Tuesday bringing 1,270 'gator hides, the largest number ever brought here at one time. It is only three weeks ago that "Bill" brought in a shipment of 800 hides. "Bill" says he is doing his best to get all the 'gators in the Everglades before Governor Broward lays out his drainage schemes. "Bill" sold his hides to R. A. Henderson receiving a little over $1,000 for his three weeks' haul of hides.—Ft. Myers Press.

Chimneys.

Chimneys constructed on modern principles were almost unknown to the ancients, being used only in the large baths, where great quantities of hot water were needed. Chafing dishes, braziers of glowing coals and bottles of hot water were employed by the ladies of the middle ages to keep their rooms warm, and a curious picture is extant of three Norman ladies chatting together, each with a bottle of hot water placed between her feet. Chimneys are believed to have been unknown in England until the twelfth century, but by the end of the fourteenth were generally employed in domestic architecture. For a long time there was a chimney tax all over England.—London News.

OUR NEW YORK WEEKLY LETTER

Window Displays a Part of the Life. Waists, Practical and Dressy, In Tempting Styles—Saxony Flannel and Embroidered Cashmeres.

By RENE DEVERAUX.

At any rate the old time idea that to stand in front of a shop window and gaze at its contents was a mark of provincialism no longer applies to "little old New York." Certainly here old New Yorkers and the stranger within her gates gather together to look and admire. This is not to be wondered at, however, for in no other city in the world is there to be seen in the windows a more artistic arrangement of fashionable apparel.

This season seems to excel any previous one in its charming variety of individual waists, a fashion too practical to be easily superseded. Moreover, waists a trifle warmer than those of the thinnest lingerie materials are beginning to feel comfortable these crisp, cool mornings.

Exclusive waist houses and waist departments of department stores have ready made and are making to order practical shirt waists of Saxony flannel that launder as well as cotton fabrics. Some of the smartest of these are in small stripes and checks on a white background fastened with medium sized pearl buttons down the front and finished with a stitched pocket on the upper left side.

Cashmere, henrietta and nun's veiling in soft pastel shades are again enormously popular. These are daintily trimmed with lace inserting or bit of hand embroidery, and the expert needlewoman who so desires may buy a plainly fashioned waist, adding the little smart touches in the way of hand work.

An exceedingly effective waist, and, by the way, quite inexpensive, was made of white nun's veiling with bunches of tucks both back and front. Between the tucks on either side were small hand embroidered stars in a pretty shade of blue. The cuffs were deep and finely tucked, and a tucked stock with a soft blue silk tie added a becoming finish.

The fashion of buttoning the waist down the back, which seems more popular than ever, admits of many charming ways of trimming which would otherwise be impossible. This fact was demonstrated in a dressy white taffeta waist whose charm was its novel trimming. This consisted of a tiny little square in front formed of rows of lace inserting around which and turned at the corners were bias pieces of the silk attached successively in four rows, each piped with a suggestion of soft blue taffeta. This square yoke effect extended well down to the bust line in front, giving a quite broad shouldered effect, and terminated in the back in a short square yoke. The sleeves were made with plain deep cuffs finished at the top with two corresponding bias pieces piped with blue.

Lingerie waists of handkerchief linen and other sheer fabrics will be worn during the winter with the tailor gown and for indoor purposes. To be worn with these, silk underslips, to give additional warmth, may be found ready made. These are brought out in blue, pink and a pretty shade of lavender, but white is more generally worn.

(Our readers may have any question concerning fashions or fabrics answered by Rene Deveraux, the fashion expert, by addressing Rene Deveraux, P. O. Box 388, Madison Square, New York, inclosing stamp for reply.)

RHEUMATISM THE TERROR OF WINTER

Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter because of the cold and dampness and other changed conditions of the climate. The occasional twinges of the disease that are felt during the warmer weather are changed to piercing pains, the muscles become inflamed and swollen, the nerves get sore and excited, the bones ache, and Rheumatism, the terror of winter, takes possession of the system. Then the sufferer turns to the liniment bottle, the woolen clothes, the favorite plaster or some home remedy, in an effort to get relief. But Rheumatism is not a trouble that can be rubbed away or drawn out with a plaster; these things relieve the pain and reduce the inflammation, but do not reach the real cause of the trouble, and at the next exposure another attack comes on. Rheumatism is caused by a sour, acid condition of the blood. The refuse matter and bodily impurities which should be carried off through the channels of nature have been left in the system because of indigestion, weak Kidneys, torpid Liver and a general sluggish condition of the system. These impurities sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to the different muscles, joints, nerves and bones, causing the painful symptoms of Rheumatism. S. S. S. goes to the root of the trouble and cures Rheumatism by cleansing the blood. It neutralizes the acids and filters them out of the circulation and sends a stream of pure, rich blood to all parts of the body. Then the pains cease, the inflammation subsides, the nerves are quieted, every symptom of the disease passes away, and the cure is permanent. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and does not injure the system as do those medicines containing Potash and other minerals. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice without charge.

for that ability. The tissues of our industrial fabric are inter-woven in such complex fashion that what strengthens or weakens part also strengthens or weakens the whole. If we penalize industry we will ourselves in the end have to pay a considerable part of the penalty. If we make conditions such that the men of exceptional ability are able to secure marked benefits by the exercise of that ability, then we shall ourselves benefit somewhat. It is our interest no less than our duty to treat them fairly. On the other hand, it is no less their interest to treat us fairly—by "us" I mean the great body of the people, the men of moderate or small fortunes, the farmers, the wage-workers, the smaller business men and professional men. The man of great means who achieves fortune by crooked methods does wrong to the whole body politic. But he not merely does wrong to, he becomes a source of imminent danger to, other men of great means; for his ill-worn success tends to arouse a feeling of resentment, which, if it becomes inflamed, fails to differentiate between the men of wealth, who have done decently and the men of wealth who have not done decently.

Revelations Shock Our People.

The conscience of our people has been deeply shocked by the revelations made of recent years as to the way in which some of the great fortunes have been obtained and used, and there is, I think, in the minds of the people at large a strong feeling that a serious effort must be made to put a stop to the cynical dishonesty and contempt for right which have thus been revealed. I believe that something, and I hope that a good deal, can be done by law to remedy the state of things complained of. But when all that can be, has thus been done, there will yet remain much which the law can not touch, and which must be reached by the force of public opinion. There are men who do not divide actions merely into those that are honest and those that are not, but create a third sub-division—that of law honesty; of that kind of honesty which consists in keeping clear of the penitentiary. It is hard to reach astute men of this type save by making them feel the weight of an honest public indignation. And this indignation, if it is to be effective, must be intelligent. It is, of course, to the great advantage of dishonest men of wealth if they are denounced, not for being dishonest, but for being wealthy, and if they are denounced in terms so overstrained and hysterical as to invite a reaction in their favor. We can not afford in this country to draw the distinction as between rich man and poor man. The distinction upon which we must insist is the vital, deep-lying, unchangeable distinction between the honest man and the dishonest man, between the dishonest man, between the man who acts decently and fairly by his neighbor and with a quick sense of his obligations, and the man who acknowledges no internal law save that of his own will and appetite. Above all we should treat with a peculiarly contemptuous abhorrence the man who in a spirit of sheer cynicism debauches either our business life or our political life. There are men who use the phrase "practical politics" as merely an euphemism for dirty politics, and it is such men who have brought the word "politician" into discredit. There are other men who use the noxious phrase "business is business," as an excuse and justification for every kind of mean and crooked work; and these men make honest Americans hang their heads because of some of the things they do. It is the duty of every honest patriot to rebuke in emphatic fashion alike the politician who does not understand that the only kind of "practical politics" which a nation can with safety tolerat eis that kind which we know as clean politics, and that we are as severe in our condemnation of the business trickery which succeeds as of the business trickery which fails. The scoundrel who fails as the scouldrel who succeeds; and of all the men in the country, the worst citizens, those who should excite in our minds the most contemptuou sobhorrence, are the men who have achieved great wealth, or any other form of success, in any save a clean and straightforward manner.

Remarks About Our Great Staple.

So much for the general subject of industrialism. Now, just a word in reference to one of the great staples of this country, which is peculiarly a staple of the southern states. Of course I mean cotton. I am glad to see diversifications of industry in the south, the growth of manufactures as well as the growth of agriculture, and the growing growth of diversification of crops in agriculture. Nevertheless it will always be true that in certain of the southern states cotton will be the basis of the wealth, the mainstay of prosperity in the future as in the past. The cotton crop is of enormous consequence to the entire country. It was the cotton crop of the south that brought four hundred million dollars of foreign gold into the United States last year, turning the balance of trade in our favor. The soil and climate of the south are such that she enjoys a practical monopoly in the production of raw cotton. No other clothing material can be accepted as a substitute for cotton. I welcome the action of the planters in forming a cotton association, and every assistance shall be given them by the national government. Moreover, we must not forget that the work of the manufacturers in the south is an advantage to manufacture the raw material here and sell to the world the finished goods. Under proper methods of distribution it may well be doubted whether there can be such a thing as overproduction of cotton. Last year's crop was nearly fourteen million bales, and yet the price was sufficiently high to give a handsome profit to the planter. The consumption of cotton increases each year, and new uses are found for it.

China Our Largest Market.

This leads me to a matter of our foreign relations, which directly concerns the cotton planter. At present our market for cotton is largely in China. The boycott of our goods in China during the past year was especially injurious to the cotton manufacturers. This government is doing, and will continue to do, all it can to put a stop to the boycott. But there is one measure to be taken toward this end in which I shall need the assistance of the congress. We must insist firmly on our rights; and China must beware of persisting in a course of conduct to which we can not honorably submit. But we in our turn must recognize our duties exactly as we insist upon our rights. We can not go into the international court of equity unless we go in with clean hands. We can not expect China to do us justice unless we do China justice. The chief cause in bring about the boy cott of our goods in China was undoubtedly our attitude toward the Chinese who come to this country. This attitude of ours does not justify the action of the Chinese in the boycott, and especially some of the forms which that action has taken. But the fact remains that in the past we have come short of our duty toward the people of China. It is our clear duty, in the interest of our own wage-workers, to forbid all Chinese of the coolie class—that is, laborers, skilled or unskilled—from coming here. The greatest of all duties is national self-preservation, and the most important step in national self-preservation is to preserve in every way the well-being of the wage-worker. I am convinced that the well-being of our wage workers demands the exclusion of the Chinese coolies, and it is therefore our duty to exclude them, just as it would be the duty of China to exclude American laboring men if they became in any way a menace to China by entering into her country. The right is reciprocal, and in our last treaty with China it was explicitly recognized as inhering in both nations. But we should not only operate the law with as little harshness as possible, but we should show every courtesy and consideration and every encouragement to all Chinese who are not of the laboring class to come to this country. Every Chinese traveler or student, business man or professional man, should be given the same right of entry to, and the same courteous treatment in, this country as are accorded to the student or traveler, the business man or professional man of any other nation. Our laws and treaties should be so framed as to guarantee to all Chinamen, save of the excepted coolie class, the same right of entry to this country and the same treatment while here as is guaranteed to citizens of any other nation. By executive action I am as rapidly as possible putting a stop to the abuses which have grown up during many years in the administration of this law. I can do a good deal, and will do a good deal, even without the action of the congress; but I can not do all that should be done unless such action is taken, and that action I most earnestly hope will be taken. It is needed in our own interest and especially in the interest of the Pacific slope and of the South Atlantic and Gulf state; for it is short-sighted indeed for us to permit foreign competitors to drive us from the great markets of China. Moreover, the action I ask is demanded by considerations that are higher than mere interest, for I ask it in the name of what is just and right. America should take the lead in establishing international relations on the same basis of honest and upright dealing which we regard as essential as between man and man.

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by all druggists.

...LED FROM TEMPTATION.

...ther Was Getting Close to This Honest Man's Price.

...everal secret service men were ...ching in a downtown cafe the other ...y when the talk turned to the gen...al subject of graft and bribery.

"I am reminded," said one of them, ...of the story of an individual who was ...ell known in the west about a decade ...go as a man of unimpeachable hon...sty and sterling integrity. And it ...wasn't just a belief or a general im...pression, but a matter of cold, hard ...fact, as the circumstances had proved ...more than once.

"It happened that about the time I ...mention a big eastern corporation ...which handled millions of dollars' ...worth of goods annually wanted a man ...for a position of the highest trust and ...after searching the country over light...ed on the gentleman in question. He ...accepted the position, delighted with ...the honor done him, but only held it ...for a month, when he handed in his ...resignation. As he had given splendid ...satisfaction in the short time, he was ...pressed by his employers for an ex...planation. This he finally gave, as fol...lows:

"'I had held this place only three ...days when a well known individual ...came to see me and, after pledging my ...honor to secrecy, offered me a bribe of ...$10,000 to do a certain thing that would ...have been faithless to my trust. I had ...him shown out of the office. The next ...day a representative of his raised the ...tendered bribe to $20,000. I refused ...indignantly. Several days later the ...offer was raised to $50,000, and some ...time after it was increased to $75,000. ...Still I refused with scorn.

"'Last week the well known individ...ual himself again came to see me and ...offered to make the bribe $100,000 in ...cash and $100,000 in stock, and I re...fused the offer and resigned.'

"'And why did you resign?' asked ...his former employers, gazing at him ...in admiration.

"'Gentlemen,' said the man of un...impeachable honesty and sterling in...tegrity, 'my reputation is all I have. ...There has never been a spot on my ...name, and bribery and graft and I ...have been strangers all my life. Such ...will continue to be the case. Gentle...men, I resigned because that last offer ...was simply near my price.'"—Wash...ington Star.

Astonishing Incident.

It was, to all her friends, an aston...ishing incident that Mrs. I. B. Hunt of ...Lime Ridge, Wis., was cured of her ...dreadful sickness. "Doctors," she ...writes, "had given me up; friends ...were ready to bid me the last farewell; ...clouds of despair darkened my horizon, ...and I was a wreck on the shores of des...pondency, when I began to take Elec...tric Bitters for my frightful stomach ...and liver complaint. To the astonish...ment of all, I was benefited at once ...I am now completely and miracu...lously restored to health. At all drug ...stores; price 50c; guaranteed.

The Defects of Memory.

...ith the mass of men it is unques...tionable that one fact drives out an...other, and it is doubtful if the most ...learned person carries in his mind more ...details of knowledge when fifty years ...old than he carried at twenty. It is ...true that he carries different things. ...A great lawyer, for instance, obliged ...to retain in his memory all the minu...tiæ of the most complex case, with ...the liability of hopeless defeat should ...a fact drop out of place in the chart ...of his mental voyage, may very likely ...fail to enter on another case by whol...ly forgetting the first one. He can no ...more carry it all with him than he can ...carry the knowledge by which he per...formed graduated summa cum laude from ...college ten years before—as, for in...stance, chemistry or the differential ...calculus.—Atlantic.

The Umbrella.

...umbrella is a "little shade." Cot...grave in 1611 defined an "umbrello" as ...a (fashion of) round and broad fanne, ...used with the Indians (and from them ...the great ones) preserve themselves ...from the beat of a scorching sunne." ...Ben Jonson and Beaumont and ...Fletcher likewise the "umbrella" was ...a shade. According to Florio (1598) ...an umbrella was "a little round thing ...that women bare in their hands to ...cover them; also, a broadbrimd hat ...to keep off beat and rayne; also, a kind ...of round thing like a round skreene ...which gentlemen use in Italy in time of ...summer."

Saved His Life.

...W. Davenport, Wingo, Ky., writes, ...July 24, 1903: "I want to tell you I ...have used Ballard's Snow Liniment saved ...my life. I was under the treatment of ...two doctors, and they told me one of ...my lungs was entirely gone, and the ...other badly affected. I also had a lump ...on my side. I don't think that I could ...have lived over two months longer. I ...was advised by a friend to try Ballard's ...Liniment. The first application gave ...great relief; two fifty cent ...bottles cured me sound and well. It is ...a special medicine and I recommend ...it to suffering humanity." Sold by W. ...M. Johnson.

Winners In Life.

The people who win their way into the inmost recesses of others' hearts are not usually the most brilliant and gifted, but those who have sympathy, patience, self forgetfulness and that indefinable faculty of eliciting the better nature of others. We have many friends who are more beautiful and gifted, but there is not one of them whose companionship we enjoy better than that of the plain faced man or woman who never makes a witty or profound remark, but whose simple quality of human goodness makes up for every other deficiency.

Submarine Divers.

It is not safe, as a rule, for submarine divers to descend lower than 25 fathoms, 160 feet, at which depth a pressure of 69¾ pounds is met with. The greatest depth to which any diver has ever descended is 34 fathoms, or 204 feet. This was to the ship Cape Horn, sunk off the coast of South America. At this depth the diver, Hooper, must have sustained the enormous pressure of 88½ pounds per square inch.—London Engineer.

Just a Hint.

Auntie—How smart you look this afternoon, dearie! Dolly (who has been forbidden to ask if she may stay to tea)—Well, you see, I put on this costume so that if anybody did ask me to tea I could stop. (Conscience stricken)—I—I haven't asked, have I?—Punch.

Questioners.

Tommy—Oh, my pa says you're a blamed nuisance, teacher. Teacher—What? Tommy—Well, that's what he says I am when I ask questions, and that's what you're always a-doin'.—Philadelphia Press.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Chase and L. W. Chase have arrived from New York and New England. Mrs. Chase and Father Chase spent last winter in Southern California, and are more than enthusiastic over a climate where the thermometer once went below 40 degrees, with an average of between 60 and 70 degrees. En route the Grand Canyon of Arizona was visited, also the famous Yosemite and Yellowstone National Park, besides some time spent in the principal cities. After a pleasant summer at their New England home they are much pleased to return to Gainesville.
